SUMMARY

This is an excerpt of an audio script created for Alexa with Volley, Inc. Its target audience is children. The game ends if the morally wrong choice is selected.

NARRATOR

Once upon a time, there was a girl who lived in the forest. She wore a red riding cloak because it made her look cool. Plus, she liked that everybody called her Red Riding Hood.

RED

Mama, are the biscuits for Grandma ready?

MOM

They are ready. How did you get such a good nose for biscuits?

RED

Probably because I've eaten a million trillion biscuits, so now I'm part biscuit!

MOM

Well, I'll just have to feed you a million trillion more biscuits until I can eat you!

(RED laughs.)

RED

Mama, could I take the biscuits to Grandma's by myself, pleeeeeease?

MOM

By yourself... I don't know...

NARRATOR

Choice time!

Red wants to go to Grandma's. Should she listen to her mom or yell at her mom?

I'm just worried about you, Red.

MOM

Well... to be honest, I know you can! You do always lead the way to Grandma's. Let's get your cloak on.

NARRATOR

Red excitedly puts on her cloak, hugs her mom, and takes the biscuits.

[Selection B]

NARRATOR

Uh-oh. Red could feel herself getting warm.

RED

You don't let me do anything!

MOM

Careful. You know what happens when you get angry.

NARRATOR

Red didn't care. She was going from warm to hot.

MOM

What can we do when we're angry? How about we count to ten? 1, 2, 3, 4-

RED

I am angry. And I want to stay angry! I'm going to be angry for forever!

NARRATOR

Red was so angry that she burst open like a firecracker, except instead of sparks, she let out one huge fart!

MOM

Pee-ew. That smells terrible! You know you get gassy when you get angry! Out!

NARRATOR

Red farted her way into the yard with the chickens, but even the chickens wouldn't sit by her when she was farting. Oh no... I think I can smell it too.

(Coughing and gagging.)

So- sorry. I have to go!

THE END.

[Selection End]
