SUMMARY

This is an original adventure game sample.

FADE IN:

INT. PLANE - DAY

A plane flies above a highly guarded facility in a mountain desert range.

PILOT

This is as far as I go.

[USER_NAME]

We're five klicks from the drop point!

PILOT

Right, but you didn't say it was guarded.

[USER_NAME]

I told you it was a military facility.

PILOT

You said it was a military lab. Labs are filled with boring white coats who eat tuna for lunch.

[USER_NAME]

So there are some guards.

PILOT

No, not guards. Those are tactical teams with enough firepower to dust us out of the sky.

[START SELECTION]

A. Bargain.

B. Agree.

C. Insult him.

[Selection A]

[USER_NAME]

Alright, alright. I'll pay 5k more.

PILOT

That's more like it.

[Selection B]

[USER_NAME]

Sure, but they'd have to hit you first, and aren't you the best pilot on the coast?

PILOT

Fine. One more klick, but that's it.

[Selection C]

[USER_NAME]

Listen, chicken shit! I need to get closer!

PILOT

Then you'll have to walk. You've got two options: jump now or I can push you.

[END SELECTION]

[USER_NAME]

Over there! 3 o'clock. Drop me in that valley.

PILOT

No go. The hot air trapped down there will stress the engines.

[USER_NAME]

How low can you go?

PILOT

35,000 feet.

[USER_NAME]

Do it.

[USER_NAME] finishes snapping the last pieces of her parachute.

PILOT

You really think you can break into that place? Alone?

[USER_NAME]

I have to.

PILOT

From that high up, they'll see you coming from a mile away.

[USER_NAME]

Not if I wait to pull my chute in the shadow of that mountain ridge.

PILOT

Alright then, it's now or never.

Go, go now!

Jump, damnit! Before that cloud blocks your view!

EXT. SKY

[USER_NAME] jumps in free fall.

EXT. BUILDING

From the sky, the player zooms in on the structure of the building.

[USER_NAME]

Interlaced steel columns and bars so bombs won't work.

From the sky, the player zooms in on the rooftop solar windows.

[USER_NAME]

Blast resistant windows, probably 2-4 inches thick.

From the sky, the player zooms in on guards covering the grounds.

[USER_NAME]

Teams of 5 at each door.

EXT. SKY WITH MOUNTAIN

[USER_NAME]

Shit! The wind is pushing me too close to the mountain! I'm going to crash!

END SAMPLE.
